PARK HISTORY

The 24-acre Nature Park is located at the corner of Bal Harbor and Aquí Esta in Punta Gorda Isles. In 2012, the PGI Green Thumbs made an agreement with the City of Punta Gorda to develop and maintain a 5 acres of the park land.

THE PUNTA GORDA ISLES GREEN THUMBS

The mission of this 501 ©(3) organization is to enhance the Nature Park's landscape, creating a place for community enjoyment and education. Green Thumb volunteers have designed and built garden beds emphasizing conservation, native plants and wildlife habitat protection.

NATURE PARK LAYOUT

The park is composed of two developed portions separated by the Fire House, as well as a trail that winds through natural vegetation. Two observation decks and a fishing pier can be accessed from the 1.5 mile trail that winds through the undeveloped space.

Plants on the East Side are specifically dedicated to be all Florida natives, with the West Side including many natives along with a wide variety of Florida Friendly plants.

HOW YOU CAN HELP

Please consider adding a donation, as we depend on donations to cover the cost for all supplies and plants needed to keep the park healthy and beautiful.

PGI Green Thumbs participate in the Amazon Smile program. Please select PGI Green Thumbs in the Amazon app, where Amazon donates 0.5% of the price of eligible AmazonSmile purchases to the eligible charitable organizations you designate

VISIT US ONLINE

Check us out on Facebook and our web site www.PGIGreenThumbs.org for more information about us and to sign up to receive our quarterly newsletters.

WE LOVE OUR VISITORS

Gardeners love to share! Stop by the park any Friday between 9 and 11 and we will be happy to explain our work and answer your questions. Visitor interest and appreciation encourage volunteers in this endeavor.

We are always interested in adding new volunteers for gardening or assisting with administrative tasks, so please consider joining.

On a daily basis, you will see families, individuals and groups getting exercise and enjoying the park. Pets are welcome. Benches and picnic tables in shady and sunny spots invite relaxation. Groups of artists, book clubs and other organizations can often be seen using the outdoor setting as a gathering place.
